

BEGIN TO BUILD LINE

PACIFIC ELECTRIC RAILWAY STARTS WORK ON BROADWAY EXTENSION

What is one of the most important pieces of work undertaken in Glendale for some time past is the extension of the Broadway electric line out to the Childs' tract, which was begun Thursday. Mr. Pillsbury, engineer of the road, has made the survey of the line of the track and set his men to work laying out the roadbed. The work is progressing very fast. The oiled surface was practically loosened the whole way out to Everett street by 5 p. m. and the work of taking the loosened masses away was begun.

Mr. Pillsbury has assured the city manager that the work thus begun will be pushed through to completion. There will be no stay in the work of construction. By the railway's franchise it was agreed that the line laid down should be double. The work will be done in accordance with the stipulations of the franchise. By this franchise the railway has 23 feet in the center of the street after the street has been widened to 80 feet. It is also agreed that the 23 feet shall be redeeded to the city for street purposes.

Property owners along the line have agreed to pay the cost of the permanent paving of that 23 feet at such time as the rest of the street is paved. The railway is obligated to pay the cost of maintenance of the road.

The car service will be the same as it now is as far as the time schedule is concerned with the exception of the additional time needed to run out to the Childs tract line and back. The fare will be the same from the Childs tract terminus as from Brand and Broadway.

This sudden beginning of the work has taken many by surprise. The people in the district have talked so long about the extension that it has become a kind of myth to many of them, an undertaking likely to be taken up perhaps ten years hence. Now that it is here, the majority of those who regarded the promise to complete the road, which was read at the last memorable public meeting in the city hall by the Rev. Dr. Edmonds as a mere makeshift, did not hesitate to say that the promise was illusory, are constrained to hold their tongues.

Others who have all along had faith in the promise of the railway and the assurances of their reputable civic officers that the work was to be begun are rejoicing that they put faith in the district from the first. There is little doubt that the construction of the railroad is going to be a great benefit to the district.

Everybody is satisfied that the advent of the railroad is going to develop the district and already it is being made known that the Childs' tract is nearly 70 feet higher than the level of Broadway and Brand. This in itself should be recognized as an advantage, the inhabitants say. Ultimately the railroad will be extended south to the Tropic line and thence to the Pacific Electric main line at Cypress street.

The Rev. W. E. Edmonds, chairman of the committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, to endeavor to get the street car road extension which has now begun, said: "This is the realization of three years of hard work on the part of our committee. We have now accomplished part of what we undertook to do, but that part is going to benefit the city as a whole. The rest of the line will be constructed in good time."

"We have always had faith in this plan and we feel now that our own faith was justified. Whatever transportation Glendale can secure is not a benefit to a mere section of the city but to the city as a whole. The whole community cannot fail to benefit by this new undertaking. The east side needs this additional transportation badly and I do not doubt that it will greatly benefit that section, but the city is not sectional. It must grow as a whole and I feel that this railway will help to develop every district. The committee that undertook to see this work through has done a great deal that will never be seen. It has raised money and obtained donations of property and never lost heart. It is glad to see this part of its work going on and believes that in the end the whole road will be constructed."

Whenever it is possible to do a kind act do it. Acts of kindness make the world a better place in which to live.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

WARREN ROBERTS, WORTHY PATRON OF GLEN EYRIE CHAPTER, COMPLIMENTED

Mr. Warren Roberts, worthy patron of Glen Eyrie chapter, Eastern Star, had a birthday Thursday and the event was properly recognized by the members of the chapter, much to the astonishment of Mr. Roberts. Thursday was the regular meeting night of Glen Eyrie and when in the course of the routine work of the order Mr. E. U. Emery arose and in a very gracious speech addressed to the esteemed worthy patron presented him with a handsome bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mr. Roberts was taken off his guard but responded happily.

Mrs. C. H. Woolsey had charge of the arrangements for the evening and with her capable committee, Miss Della Echols, Miss Margaret Nichols and Miss Harriett Nichols, had transformed the hall with a beautiful arrangement of white sweet peas and American Beauty roses. A delightful program had been arranged and Miss Mae Cornwell to show the appreciation of the members of the chapter for the pleasure given them by those who appeared on the program, presented each one of the participants with a huge bouquet of white roses tied with white ribbon. Master Charles Beamon gave a reading that captured his audience. Little Lois Naudain gave a solo dance in costume for which she has won quite a reputation for a young miss of her years and as usual delighted all with her dainty poses. Mrs. Earl Naudain, her mother, played her accompaniment. Misses Lucile and Avis Thompson showed great musical ability in the pretty violin and piano duet which they so beautifully rendered. Miss Eileen Grist, who always sings so sweetly, charmed with her pretty solo, her sister, Miss Esther Grist, accompanying her. The Dutch dance in costume by Misses Virginia Hunchberger and Evelyn Gregg, with Miss Ernestine Lyons at the piano, won prolonged applause and many complimentary remarks.

Following the program and the delightful ceremony of presenting flowers to each of the performers, Mrs. Woolsey invited all to the banquet room where a long table was spread. Worthy Patron Roberts thought the evening was a series of surprises when he spied in the center of the board a big beautiful birthday cake with its candles and wreath of roses and smilax, while a tall vase at either end of the table held clusters of long stemmed American beauties. The delicious repast was daintily served. The members of Glen Eyrie feel that it was very fitting to honor in this way their worthy patron and husband of their charming and gracious worthy matron, Mrs. Fern Roberts.

Glen Eyrie is planning another social evening and the following names appointed on committees to arrange for a card party May 11 are a guarantee of a delightful evening. Arrangements: Mrs. Lawrence Ellis, Mrs. W. E. Evans, Mrs. Earl Naudain, Mrs. S. A. Pollock, Miss Margaret Nichols, Miss Harriett Nichols. Reception: Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, Mrs. Salo Desky, Miss Fredonia Borthick, Mr. A. M. Beamon, Mr. Fred Deal.

"DRY" CALIFORNIA CAMPAIGN

A preliminary meeting for organizing a federation in Glendale and vicinity in the interest of the campaign for making California dry at the coming fall election was held at the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday at 4 p. m., April 26. Dr. Wadsworth, county organizer, was present and gave the plans for such an organization.

A nominating committee, consisting of Julius Soper, W. E. Edmonds, Oliver O. Clark, J. M. McGillis, Mrs. Ruby Smart, Mrs. Albert Frank and Mrs. Charles Hutchinson, was appointed. The committee will meet in a few days and nominate the officers and committees to be presented to a meeting to be called for effecting a permanent organization.

This first meeting was not large, but representative. It is hoped the next meeting will be a large and enthusiastic one. Due notice of time and place will be given.

JULIUS SOPER, Chairman.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY

In the report sent to the News of the play, "Land of Heart's Desire," given by the Dramatic club Wednesday, a mistake was made in the cast. William Bode was the student who took the part of "Shawn Bruin" and Paul Williams it was who who enacted with so much acceptance the part of "Father Hart."

GERMANY WILL YIELD ON SUBMARINE ISSUE

NO RUPTURE LIKELY BETWEEN U. S. AND KAISER—AMERICANS KEEP INDOORS IN BERLIN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
THE HAGUE, Holland, April 28.—Positive assurance has reached United States Ambassador Gerard that there will be no diplomatic break between the kaiser and the United States. The danger was considered imminent here Saturday and the American attaches at the embassy began packing up to be ready to leave. By Wednesday, however, more reassuring news was heard and they unpacked again. Meantime all Americans in Berlin and Germany are having a very uncomfortable time. They are finding it the part of discretion to remain indoors as hostile demonstrations have greeted them at times. It is likely that the kaiser has come to the conclusion that he cannot afford a breach with the United States in the midst of other troubles.

MARSEILLES, France, April 28.—The third contingent of Russian troops arrived in France today. The soldiers of the czar were given a tremendous ovation as they landed at this port. They are being dispatched to the front as rapidly as possible. Writing in the Kolnische Zeitung Maj. He arrived today, but the port of arrival is kept secret. He has assumed command of the British forces and will deal firmly with the outbreak. All news from Ireland is closely censored. It is acknowledged that this is the gravest crisis Britain has had to face since the war began.

FRENCH REPULSE GERMAN AIR RAIDERS

FIGHTING IN VERDUN REGION BEGINS TO SLACKEN—NEXT ATTACK ON BRITISH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PARIS, April 28.—The Germans conducted many air raids this morning against the French positions surrounding Verdun, and along the whole western front. It is believed that the Teutons are preparing a desperate attack on the British front. There were no important infantry attacks in the section around Verdun today. Indications point to a severe attack on the British lines. The Germans are making vast preparations and are accumulating enormous stores of ammunition for this purpose.

OLD FOLKS AT HOME

METHODIST EPISCOPAL LADIES' AID ENTERTAINED AGED CHURCH MEMBERS

More than 150 of both sexes attended a unique entertainment for the old folks of the First Methodist Episcopal church, given by the Ladies' Aid in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. The ladies who have the arrangements of the society in charge for the month of April organized and managed this most enjoyable affair. The April committee was most diligent in all that pertained to the getting up of this enjoyable affair. The committee consisted of Mrs. Snudden, Mrs. A. Knight, Mrs. Randolph and Mrs. John Marsh.

An excellent program was arranged by the program committee consisting of Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Laichinger, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Lampert and Mrs. Snudden.

The decorations were in charge of a committee consisting of Mrs. Case, Mrs. Wagon, Mrs. Beckman, Mrs. Erling, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Devoe and Mrs. Lord.

The refreshment committee consisted of Mrs. Border, Mrs. G. Goff, Mrs. Winter, Mrs. Brownfield, Mrs. Shepherd, Mrs. Brockman, Mrs. Rounds and Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Andrea attended to the issuing of the invitations and Mrs. Marsh saw to the autos and the gathering of the old people.

This was the regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist church, the month of April being under the charge of Mrs. Laichinger, to whose efforts much of the success of the affair was due. Mrs. Laichinger tenders her thanks to the ladies of the month of April for their loyal and efficient assistance and also to all who took part in the program.

Everything on the program was old-time style. The ladies of April were appropriately attired in old-style fichus and wore lace caps. Quite a few of them appeared in the costumes of their grandmothers. Mrs. Fuller appeared in a quaint costume that had actually belonged to her great grandmother and in this quaint attire, with her enormous bow of ribbon flapping at the back of her waist and her curious airs of the olden time she convulsed the whole gathering as she played ancient melodies at the piano.

Everyone was happy. The old folks enjoyed the affair immensely. Mr. Goss was inimitable in his handling of the violin in the music of the past. Brought to the church in autos the old people were able to enjoy the affair without being fatigued. The parlors were beautifully decorated with roses. Sweet Williams and many other old-time flowers—marigolds, pinks and cornflowers. Refreshments after the manner of the olden time were served and helped to sustain the old people under the excitement of the afternoon.

The program was as follows: Mr. Goss, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Burket, "Music of Our Grandfathers." Violin songs and dances.

Mr. Samuel Parker, original poem. Miss Champlain, solo, "Old Folks at Home."

Mrs. Fuller, solo, "Old Black Joe," in costume with piano variations.

Mrs. Bens, reading, with old-fashioned courtesy.

Miss Dorothy Barrd, vocal solo in costume.

Elizabeth Mottern, "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

Leone Brice, reading in costume. Miss Wyler, reading, with piano accompaniment by Miss Olive Marsh.

Mrs. Cappel, solo, "Annie Laurie."

Frank Churchill and Russell Laichinger, "Poet and Peasant," piano duet.

The old folks were conveyed to their homes again without fatigue and pronounced the affair the greatest success of the season.

Mr. Samuel Parker's poem, which was received with much acceptance by those present was as follows:

PASSING OF THE PIONEER
The sun glides down from its zenith
Towards the glowing west,
And gilded in glowing colors
Sinks gently to its rest;
While twilight's deepening shadows
Creep rapidly over the plain;
As rapidly shall they vanish,
For the sun shall rise again.

So the pilgrim on life's journey
Soon reaches a downward grade,
The glow of midlife preceding,
But heralds the twilight shade.
Brief shadows, lamps trimmed and burning,

JUSTIFIED BY FAITH

DR. J. R. PRATT TELLS OF GOD'S REMEDY FOR SIN

The interest in the Bible study classes at the Glendale Presbyterian church continues. A good congregation gathered last evening to hear Dr. J. R. Pratt in the teaching of the Epistle to the Romans.

The epistle falls into three natural divisions, doctrinal, dispensational and practical. Paul writes that "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." The corruption of the moralist, the immoralist and the religionist is the same, all have missed the mark.

The law was not given for the saving of souls, it was given to reveal sin. Man has always failed. God never has nor never can fail. Through the failure of the Jew the Gentile was brought into sin. God's righteousness must be justified, he could not go back on his word and save man who is a sinner. His justice must be satisfied. There was but one who could pay the price of man's redemption; his son died for man's sins to justify and sanctify him. So Jesus Christ, the righteousness of God, is his gift to the sinner and becomes his righteousness and wisdom.

Its effect is salvation from the penalty, power and presence of sin. It is universal to "every one," the gift is universal but not the acceptance.

Its application is by faith, it is obtained, but not attained; it is not to be imitated but appropriated and then dispensed.

The nature of God's righteousness is imputed by Christ and imparted by the Holy Spirit.

Therefore we conclude that man is justified by faith in Jesus Christ, the gift of God fully bestowed on all men.

MEETING OF CHAPTER L

Chapter L, P. E. O. met at the home of Mrs. R. E. Chase, 438 S. Adams St., on Wednesday afternoon, April 26. A very fine program was given under the leadership of Mrs. C. W. Burket, her subject being P. E. O.'s of Note, which covered a very wide scope. They are to be found in all vocations of life from the rich to the poor, helping to alleviate pain and suffering wherever found and it is with much pride that we look back upon the seven Christian girls at the Pleasant college, Iowa, who could see the need of such a band of women and could formulate the idea of such a sisterhood. For the musical part of the program Mrs. Neil gave a piano selection and Mrs. Bryant very sweetly sang two numbers of Carrie Stone Freeman's and two of Mrs. Duffield's "Songs to Children," both of these ladies being Los Angeles P. E. O.'s. The program was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Ye fear not forward to go,
For the resurrection morning
Makes the pathway all aglow.

Dear pioneer fathers and mothers
Long time in the "Good Old Way,"
Ye are moving toward life's sunset,
To round up a useful day.
We are glad to be with and near you,
God grant you may tarry long,
And we come this day to cheer you,
With something of speech and song.

Your early zeal for the Master
Conquered the wilderness;
Ye planted church, schools and college,

The on-coming millions to bless.
And in your presence, we younger,
With hearts of gratitude tell,
That we are better and stronger
Because ye wrought so well.

And happy are we, your servants,
On this occasion to prove
To you in this simple manner,
Our veneration and love.

Nor can we forbear to mention
The pleasure that each derives
From the force of good example
Set forth in your Christian lives.

At eve, now quietly resting
From the burdens of the day,
Ye know in whom ye are trusting,
To go with you all the way.

Eternal youth all are sharing,
Whose names on high are enrolled
And the hoary crowns you're now wearing
Will be changed for crowns of gold.

The time is rapidly nearing
When each aged pilgrim here
From our loving gaze disappearing,
Shall soar to that blissful sphere.

Oh, Father, allot them stations
In happy, peaceful abode
In that city which hath foundations,
Whose builder and maker is God.

DELAYS OF DIPLOMACY

Delay is one of the weapons of diplomacy. European courts and chancelleries are adepts at the political game. They are experts at darkening any subject that may be under discussion by raising issues that are entirely foreign to that under consideration and while the inept and inapt amateur politician is cudgelling his brains for some solution of a dozen sophisms that have been put up to him to solve, the question either settles itself or some other issue beclouds the first and the dull ass whose pace could not be mended by beating is left wondering how it all happened.

That seems to be very much what is happening with the negotiations between the United States and Germany at present. More than a year has elapsed since the Lusitania was sunk and still the Germans are replying to American remonstrances by simply restating in new terms their old answers, which were mere evasions. The United States has sometimes been accused of "shirtsleeves" diplomacy. That was the kind of diplomacy that no evasion could evade.

Just at present President Wilson has signified that the United States does not intend to tolerate the sinking of unarmed vessels by the Teutons. The inspired German newspapers putting out tentative replies that the Berlin authorities may have the benefit of the comment of the American newspapers say "Germany is quite willing to yield on every other point in dispute except the one point of sinking unarmed merchant vessels. The United States will surely not insist on such a stipulation when it sees how vital to Germany it is to sink these vessels. On all other points we are willing to make concessions. Surely this small matter can be adjusted."

As a matter of fact there is no other vital point in dispute between the United States and Germany. This is the crux of the whole dispute and yet there are those whose perspective on simple matters is so faulty that they will think that in this Germany has really made a rational reply to the United States' demands. The European diplomat usually holds it a breach of diplomatic etiquette to permit discussion by newspapers of delicate points under negotiation between his own and other countries. That would appear to be almost a maxim with those diplomats.

Teuton diplomats seem to have changed all that. They give out to their semi-official papers matters that usually are kept quiet and set them trying the effect of various suggestions on the country with which they may be negotiating. According to Teuton diplomatic standards readjusted to fit the doctrine of the "superman" it is right to give out delicate information in this way if you expect to get any benefit from so doing; but it is a serious breach of diplomatic etiquette if the other country should do so.

Apparently the Germans are so impressed with the idea that the thing the United States desires to avoid is action that they have no hesitation in playing the game of delay in hope that something else will turn up that will divert the attention of the American people from Teutonic submarine warfare. This is likely to meet with disappointment. Meantime the Berlin government is concerning itself as much with the approaching United States presidential election as though the United States were part of the German confederation.

DISCARDING AN OLD SERVANT

After thirty-three years faithful and efficient service in the Alaska and Pacific department the famous old United States coast-guard cutter Thetis is about to be sold at auction. Unlike many of her predecessors, however, she will not be sold for a song. Those who may have had visions of some day purchasing this fine old steamship at the outlay of a few hundred dollars are to be disappointed. At present steamships are at a premium and the Thetis will probably bring a large sum.

War freights is the reason for this rise in the value of an old steamer. Every vessel that can be pressed into service is being utilized. Freights were never higher than they are at the present moment. So many vessels have been sunk; so many are interned and so many are occupied entirely in the service of the various belligerent nations for munition work and transport that it is next to impossible to get vessels to carry ordinary freight.

In consequence every old vessel that can be resuscitated is being pressed again into service. Old whalers that have been laid up for years are now painted up and calked, and the merry tramp of the old time sailor can be heard as he marches cheerily around some old-fashioned capstan. If the owners are enterprising enough a donkey engine is rigged up and the old work of the ancient mariner is superseded by steam. Everywhere those ancient relics may be seen reviving their youth and making money for those fortunate enough to possess them.

This is not the first time the Pacific coast has seen the pressing into service of old ships. When the rush began to the placer fields of Nome in 1900 every available vessel was pressed into service. Vessels so old that they were almost falling in pieces carried hundreds of eager goldseekers north at $150 and $100 a head. Even at that rate those who had the gold fever were content to sleep on deck. The marvel was that there were not many disasters with those old boats; but the luck which follows the daring seemed to attend them and they generally came out all right.

Among the first boats that went to Alaska in 1900 was the Thetis. She has been an arctic boat from the very day when she sailed proudly out of Dundee harbor, Scotland in the year 1881. Then she was a fine new vessel built specially for the severe work of bucking the arctic ice and withstanding the cruel pressure of the closing floes. After two years in that service she was purchased by Uncle Sam and put into commission in the Arctic and Pacific work. For many years the Thetis was a welcome visitor in the Behring sea. She did a great deal of excellent work in carrying mails and provisions at that time when she was commanded by Captain W. S. Schley, afterward the famous Spanish war admiral.

Under the command of Captain Schley the Thetis, with two

She served as a navy ship in the survey service and on one trip carried a consignment of reindeer from Siberia to Alaska. She has figured in a hundred picturesque adventures and has carried the law to the lawless in the far north many times.

Condemned by the navy authorities twelve years ago, she has gone on her work without halt or stay and is probably good for many years to come in any service. She was not sold some years ago simply because no price was offered for her that the navy authorities would accept. Now they expect to get $30,000.

GIRLS STUDY MEAT CUTS

The two first year cooking classes of the domestic arts department of the Glendale Union High School were instructed in the art of cutting meat yesterday afternoon by Mr. C. W. Ingledue at the Glendale market. Mr. Ingledue took great pains in demonstrating to the young ladies the manner of cutting and preparing for cooking the different cuts of beef and mutton so that each cut would be best suited for the particular manner of cooking to obtain the best results. For the past few weeks the class has been studying the cooking of meats and having finished all the work that was possible to be done in the laboratory, Miss Hansen, the instructor, thought it would be of great benefit to them to see the real cuts of meat and this would make a more lasting impression on the pupils' minds than the using of charts. The girls seemed to be very much interested in the work. Besides their teacher the following young ladies were present and enjoyed the courtesy of Mr. Ingledue.

PROHIBITION MEETING

Prohibition society of Glendale met April 27 in the Chamber of Commerce. Election of officers resulted as follows: Chairman, W. F. Tower; vice chairman, G. W. Johnson; secretary, Mrs. Hattie E. Gaylord; treasurer, K. C. Sipple. A resolution was adopted as follows: "Whereas, the best interests of the citizens comprising the ninth congressional district have been safeguarded and advanced by our able representative in congress, Honorable Charles H. Randall,

"Therefore, be it resolved by the Prohibition society of Glendale in conference assembled, that we heartily endorse the splendid record made by Congressman Randall and hereby pledge ourselves to work and vote for his re-election at the coming election Nov. 7, 1916."

Next meeting to be held at the same place in two weeks.

TROPICO P. T. A. MEETING

The regular meeting of the Tropico Parent-Teacher association was held Thursday in the school. Mrs. Ella Richardson, vice president, presided. Every one was in excellent humor. It was reported that much work is being done in the flower and vegetable gardens that the students manage. Prof. Kenney gave a most encouraging report on this work. Under the leadership of Miss Mitchell, the music teacher, twelve little boys sang a group of songs. The speaker of the day was Mrs. O. E. Helping, who gave a most illuminating talk on "The Scolding Habit." She advised parents to see only the good deeds in their children and to praise them. To let children know their good deeds are appreciated. It is not right to accept the helpful deeds of a child as though they were merely in the line of duty. The rule for mothers should be "see no evil, talk no evil, hear no evil." This lesson had practical effects in some of those present.

The Tropico children who won a prize at the Glendale Flower show are delighted with their reward.

DOROTHY BONNELL BENEFIT

The committee in charge of the Dorothy Bonnell benefit: Mrs. V. Price Brown, Mrs. Opal Greenwalt, Mrs. W. C. Houston, Mrs. Hinkley, Mrs. R. E. Chase, Miss Harriet Wells, Mrs. Leppelman, Mrs. C. H. Thompson, Mrs. Cousins and Mrs. Roache, reports that the proceeds of the benefit were as follows:

Sale of tickets	$379.85
Donations	40.40
	$420.25

Mrs. R. C. Newton, who had expected to go to the mining town of Oatman, heard of the new strike and made a trip to Goldstone and Barstow instead. She has returned from the mining regions full of enthusiasm and promises to tell the readers of the News something of the impressions she received.

MAY BASKETS FOR SHUTINS

The members of the Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church will meet Saturday at 3 p. m. to help the flower committee make and fill baskets which will be sent that evening to the sick and shutins. On Sunday evening at 6:15 the regular C. E. prayer meeting will be held, the topic for discussion being "Using Sunday for this World and the Next."

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

The vacation season is coming on apace. The fishing season opening May 1 is also attracting many of the residents of the foothills with the call of the wild. Among those who have arranged to take advantage of the fine weather and the fishing are Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bierbower, 922 Fairview avenue. They leave Sunday for San Gabriel canyon, which they will ascend and in the secluded recesses of which they will camp for a couple of weeks, leaving the cares of the city behind them. Pleasant color says that the trout are thick in the mountain streams and he knows as his people have a large ranch at the mouth of the canyon and know all the conditions in that attractive mountain spot. They will motor to Azusa and thence will take the stage up the canyon as the road is still too strenuous for light machines.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell of Kenneth road will motor to San Diego Tuesday. Mrs. Campbell's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John McPeak of Los Angeles, will accompany them. The party will stay in San Diego several days and will visit the exposition and Coronado.

WORK OF THE DEVIL

Yesterday at the luncheon hour when the literary editors were absent the linotype operator, who takes only a half hour noon, called for copy and nobody being present to supply the space-filling stuff, the devil took it upon himself to write an editorial upon one of the deep questions of the hour, visual education, and it was not until the paper was off the press that the intellectual lights of the front office knew that such a careless practice had been indulged in. Hereafter precautions will be taken to uphold the dignity of the editorial sanctum.

SPEED AND ECONOMY

J. B. Maurath of the Cleveland Motorcycle company arrived in Glendale about two weeks ago. Convinced that the motorcycle which his company manufactures is unequalled by any on the market he was looking for some one in Glendale to handle it. The Cleveland motorcycle, Mr. Maurath maintains, is the pioneer lightweight wheel of the country. It has been tested in all climates and under all conditions and has never failed to answer the tests.

In Glendale Mr. Maurath was fortunate enough to induce S. W. Lee, the well known electrician and moving picture expert, and also Edgar H. Sargent of Los Angeles and Glendale, to undertake the agency for the motorcycle which will thus be presented to the public of Glendale under favorable auspices.

Not satisfied with the perfectly credible praises of the Cleveland motorcycle sounded by Mr. Maurath, Mr. Lee, before undertaking the agency, put the cycle to the test and found that the manufacturer's claims were not in any way exaggerated. He rode it more than 750 miles with an expenditure of only 7 gallons of gasoline and seven pints of oil. From 11th and Olive streets in Los Angeles to Glendale Broadway station he made the excellent time of 35 minutes. With this wonderful machine he climbed the Newhall grade and covered the distance from San Fernando to Broadway station, Glendale, in 32 minutes.

These experiments thoroughly convinced Mr. Lee that the Cleveland is the finest two-wheel mount that any engineer has ever designed. He asks that all interested in this fine piece of mechanical construction and engineering excellence come and see it at 312 S. Brand boulevard.

THE SPRING SUITS

Gaberlines, serges, poplins, broadcloths, whipcords, goffines and bedford cords are prominent. Then there are the novelty materials in checks and stripes that will be very modish. The season's favored colors are navy, hague blue, tan, reseda, black and white. The white tailored suit will be very smart for early spring wear.

In development youthfulness is the keynote. Skirts will continue short and will be ample in width. Many of the new models measure five yards at the bottom. The horizontal trimmings, such as folds, tucks, bands and ruchings, which are popular, emphasize the fullness. Many of the new skirts are shirred to the belt; others are gathered to a yoke, and then again the skirt may fit snugly over the hips and ripple below. Both the gored and circular skirt are fashionable. Panels are seen on the newest importations. A recent Paris model shows plaited panels at the sides, front and back being plain. Side trimmings are strongly favored by fashionable dressmakers. This may be in the form of plain panels in matching or contrasting fabrics, horizontal plaits or cordings and in braided panels, and they extend the full length of the skirt.

NATURE AND ART

It is a great mortification to the vanity of man that his utmost art and industry can never equal the meanest of nature's productions either for beauty or value. Art is only the underworkman and is employed to give a few strokes of embellishment to those pieces which come from the hand of the master.—Hume.

LA CRESCENTA

Miss Gwendolyn Claflin spent the week-end with friends at Redondo Beach.

Mary Clark and Ruth Condee of Los Angeles visited the Misses Dorothy and Marguerite Cloud four days last week.

Gladys Thompson, Dorothy Cookson and Marguerite Cloud enjoyed a trip horseback to Sunland and Glendale.

Miss Ethel Lewenstein visited friends in Los Angeles from Wednesday until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Erwin entertained a party of seven friends from Los Angeles, and the day was pleasantly spent at a picnic in the Big Tejuja.

Mrs. L. Davis entertained her mother, Mrs. Guthrie, of Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Burres of Los Angeles, the past week.

The La Crescenta store has installed an auto delivery and is now covering a wider territory and enlarging their list of patrons.

The picture show at the school Tuesday evening of this week was largely attended by the people from La Crescenta, La Canada and Littlelands. "The Tomboy," a three reel drama; "The Waterways of Bruges," "When Mice Make Merry" and Pathe Current Events were the pictures shown, and the program seemed to please all present. New pictures will be shown next Tuesday evening.

Robert Cooper, who is employed at the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber Yards at Montrose, is confined to his home on account of illness this week.

The workmen finished the last work on A. C. Dodd's bungalow, on Honolulu avenue, Saturday of last week, and Mr. and Mrs. Dodds are now nicely domiciled in their new home.

Mr. Joe Hawkins who has been selling real estate for the past six years says there is a brisk demand for La-Crescenta bargains this month and reports the sale of four one-half acre lots in the Brown tract to Mr. William Deer who will "Park the Little Deers" on this beautiful property in the near future.

Fritz Adams entertained at a birthday dinner at the Fairmont hotel April 17th to celebrate his twentieth birthday. The guests present were Theodore Hopping, Miles Thompson, Mary H. Clark, Ethel May Lewenstein, Dorothy Cloud, Dorothy Cookson, Gladys Thompson and Marguerite Cloud.

Among guests registering at the Fairmont hotel the past week were Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Mixsell, Pasadena; E. H. and A. M. Witman, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Eldridge, Mrs. Adie M. Eldridge, Miss Rudell, F. D. Post, Homer Laughlin and Ruth Condee of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. M. Badger, Mrs. E. Badger and Mrs. E. P. Todd of Santa Paula, Cal. Mrs. Baldrige and daughter of Omondark; Nellie M. Black, Lena Niquidy, Emeley A. Brown and Mrs. Tavern of Pasadena.

Mrs. M. M. Cloud, assisted by her daughter, Miss Dorothy, gave a six-course luncheon at the Fairmont hotel Tuesday afternoon of this week. The party was tendered to Los Angeles friends, practically all of whom were wives of army men friends of Dr. Cloud. The afternoon was most pleasantly spent, a feature being the musicale and entertainment furnished by the guests. The parlors and dining room of the hotel were artistically decorated with wild flowers and the color scheme was yellow and lavender. Out of town guests present were: Mesdames Robert D. Read, Arthur Williams, Davis, Hay, Hoyle, Scott, Vickrey, Adair, de Rudio, Scott, Cornegys, Wedemeyer, James Macklin, Dillingham, James Fisher, Orville Nave, Purviance and Bacon of Los Angeles; Mrs. P. PARIS PAPERS DESTROYED

In the fire on the night of March 21, which swept more than 103 city blocks of the city of Paris, Tex., destroying fully three-fourths of the residence section and sweeping the business district clean, with a loss of fully $15,000,000, both the Paris Morning News and the Paris Daily Advocate plants were burned. The Paris Dinner Horn, a daily newspaper issued for free distribution, was the only newspaper in the city after the great fire.

On the day after the fire the News and Advocate came out in handbill form, these having been printed on the hand job presses of the Dinner Horn. Both the News and the Advocate are preparing to rebuild their plants and will resume publication as soon as they can become adjusted to the changed conditions. The News estimates its loss at $30,000 and the Advocate at $20,000.

Sir Augustus Lackcash, looking more seedy than ever, entered the tailor's shop and was met by the tailor himself who welcomed him with a beaming smile.

"My son informs me," said Sir Augustus, "that you have allowed him to run a bill for three years. I have come, therefore."

"Oh, pray, Sir Augustus," interrupted the tailor, bowing with politeness, "there is really not the slightest hurry, I assure you."

"I know that," returned the knight serenely, "and therefore I have come to tell you that in future I want to get my clothes from you too."—London Telegraph.

CHEAP LODGING

"One day," said a Parisian, "I arrived with my wife at an inn in the lower Pyrenees. It was during an electoral campaign. The place pleased me. Two days passed. At the moment of departure I asked for my account. The innkeeper responded: 'You owe me nothing. The Count de V., who is the candidate, has paid everything in this district for fifteen days.'"

"So I remained at that inn fifteen days without paying a sou."

A GRIM DEATHBED JOKE

It was the 21st of April, 1821. Dr. I. P. Frank, the eminent governor of the University hospital, Vienna, lay on his deathbed and was expected to pass away. Once more the eight leading medical men of the capital gathered round his couch. All at once the patient burst out laughing.

"What is it that tickles your fancy?" his friends inquired.

"A story has just come into my mind," was the reply. "On the battlefield of Wagram lay a French soldier counting his wounds. 'Ha!' he exclaimed, 'it takes eight bullets to kill a French grenadier.' Gentlemen, there are eight of you, too." Thus he spoke and expired in a fit of laughter.

TO THE VOTER:

If California is to share in the benefits of Republican national policies—and certainly California of all states needs a liberal allowance—California must and should share in Republican national activities.

To acquire the right to participate in the fruits of Republican victory at the national election next November California must earn the right by electing a Republican delegation at the primary election next Tuesday.

To fully demonstrate that California is unqualifiedly a Republican state, the California delegation at Chicago must be unqualifiedly a Republican delegation—not controlled by nor instructed for any individual whatsoever.

Just Republican—that's all.

There is only one such delegation on the ballot—the last twenty-six names in the "no preference" column, beginning with Walter Bordwell and ending with Charles C. Chapman.

A vote for the "Bordwell to Chapman" delegation is a vote for the return of prosperity under a national Republican administration—and you owe it to the state to vote that way.

Sunset 258-J - Home 683HOW NOT TO GROW OLD

The Spanish wit and philosopher Quevedo, who in his time gained a reputation for knowing everything, was asked if he knew of a means whereby a person could avoid growing old. "Most certainly," said he. "I know of certain rules which will surely prevent your growing old."

"What are they?"

"Keep in the sun in summer and in the wet in winter. That is one rule. Never give yourself rest. That is another. And then if you take care always to eat cold meat and drink plenty of cold water when you are hot you may be perfectly sure that you will never grow old!"
